

Runni ng head

Water finds its level
and stone keeps its shape through the long season

Wind moves the grass and light moves the shade across the open field